*For class rules, I let the kids share about 10 different ideas about what they think should be a class rule. I usually start by adding mine which is respect self, others, environment. I then let them vote on 2 and we pick the top 3 or 4. I try to guide them towards ones like the golden rule, etc. I then write these on a large white paper and we discuss what a contract is and the importance of a signature. Then we all sign our rules and commit to doing our best to follow them.
 I pledge allegiance to myself, I am the one and only person, To decide what I will be and do, I make myself what I am, I am in charge of my learning and behavior.
